

ICS 100: Computing Literacy and Applications

An introductory survey of computers and their role in the information world emphasizing computer terminology, hardware, and software. Opportunities for “hands-on” experience using applications software may include spreadsheets, word processing, presentations, and communications.

Credits: 3

Program: Information & Computer Science