Geography (GEOG)

GEOG 101: The Natural Environment
GEOG 101 surveys Earth's natural systems including the atmosphere, lithosphere, biosphere, and hydrosphere. Basic elements of the natural environment are examined, especially climate, soils, landforms, water and natural vegetation.

Credits: 3
Recommended Prep: ENG 22, ENG 24, MATH 82.

GEOG 101L: The Natural Environment Lab
GEOG 101L is laboratory course that examines Earth's natural systems including the atmosphere, lithosphere, biosphere, and hydrosphere. The course includes lab work, field data collection, analysis, and reporting.

Credits: 1
Prerequisites: GEOG 101 with a grade of C or better or concurrent registration.
Recommended Prep: ENG 22, ENG 24, MATH 82.

GEOG 102: World Regional Geography
Geography of world's major cultural regions; emphasis on geographic aspects of contemporary economic, social and political conditions. Introduction to the study of geographic regions. Each region will be examined in terms of its underlying physical, cultural, economic and political backgrounds.

Credits: 3
Recommended Prep: ENG 22 with a grade of C or better or equivalent.

GEOG 122: Geography of Hawai'i
This course examines the physical, biotic, cultural, and socio-economic elements of Hawai'i. These include the study of volcanism, climatic diversity, water features, vegetation, population and land use patterns, and cultural expression, with a focus on understanding the interrelation and inseparability of physical processes and human activities.

Credits: 3
Recommended Prep: ENG 22, ENG 24

GEOG 151: Geography and Contemporary Society
GEOG 151 is an introductory survey course on human society and culture. It examines patterns of population and migration, cultural diffusion and change, globalization, economic development, political systems, agriculture and urbanization.

Credits: 3
Recommended Prep: ENG 22 with a grade of C or better or equivalent.